Thomas Judd

probably came from England in 1633 in the company of those who had belonged to the congregation of the Rev. Thomas Hooker. He is named at Cambridge in 1634 & was admitted freeman in that town in 1636. He emigrated to Hartford in 1636, about the same time that Mr. Hooker removed from Cambridge to Hartford. He was a member of the first church organized in Hartford under Mr. Hooker. His homelot was south of the Little River, & east of the road to Wethersfield. It was directly south of the Willys lot, on which the charter oak stands & may easily be found. He had grants of land in the meadows & uplands, and on the east side of Connecticut river. He lived in Hartford about 8 years & then removed to Farmington, being one of the original proprietors & settlers of that town. His homelot was on the main street both sides, & extended west to Farmington river. He had grants of land in various places with the other settlers. He was chosen representative to the General Court first in 1647, & was elected to the same office at one or both sessions in 1648, 1649, 1650, 1656, 1658, 1659, 1660, 1661, 1662 1663, 1666, 1668, 1670, 1677 & 1678. He is called Thomas Judd or Goodman Judd until 1668; in that year & after he is called Deac. Thomas Judd in the records of the General Court. He attended the Genbal Court at Hartford, May 9. 1678 for the last time. On the 2d December 1679 he married widow Clemence Mason at Northampton, & lived with her at Northampton the remainder of his life. She had no children living, & her husband Thomas Mason had given to her all his property including about 40 acres in Northampton meadow. Deac Thos Judd always bore the title of deacon in Northampton, but it is presumed he was not a deacon of the church in that town. He was one of the selectmen of Northampton in 1682. There is no record of his death in Northampton. The probability is that he died in Connecticut while on a visit to his children. He settled his estate while living by giving deeds of land to his children. The deeds are dated in 1683. 1684 & 1685. The last on record is dated at Northampton Nov 19. 1685 and acknowledged before Peter Tilton of Hadley. He died between 1685 & 1690 probably about 1688. His age cannot be ascertained, but it must have been about 80. His first wife, whose name was probably Elizabeth, died about 1678. Her 2d wife Clemence died Nov. 22. 1696. He was married either a little before he came from England, or a little after at Cambridge.

P.S. His death is recorded by Mr. Cornish in the records of all the deaths &c in the county. He died at Northampton Nov. 12. 1688. He says under 1688 "Deac Thomas Judd dyed 12th 9br" — that is, the 12 of 9th month, calling March the first.

John's age is recorded; in 1676 he is said to be 36 years old. Samuel's birth is obtained from his age on his grave stone in Northampton burying ground.

A large tracts of wild land in Farmington Waltenbury &c has been allotted to Deac Judd which he did not dispose of during his life-time, & other tracts were afterwards to his heirs in his name, many years after his death. In dividing & subdividing these lands, the names of all his children often appear on the probate records, & in the registry of Deeds. The sons are always placed first in this order, William, Thomas, John, Benjamin, Philip, Samuel; then the daughters in this order Elizabeth, Mary, Ruth. In these records, he is usually called "Deac. Thomas Judd formerly of Farmington, afterwards of Northampton deceased."

Tom Judd's in the Revolution. Sabine in History of Am. Loyalists mentions Samuel Judd & son Samuel; Jonathan Judd and William Judd, of Fairfield County Con. as members of the Reading Association (of Tories.)

Sabine says Connecticut has a greater number of adherents of the Crown in proportion to population than Maine, Mass. & N.H. Samuel Episcopal clergymen speaking of the popular sympathies of their flocks conform this. Swedenmarians, he says, were same way. Episcopalians in New England were generally tories.

p. 128 Col. John Pynchon, of Springfield. [Smith, Inhabs. Sfld., p. 325]

Son of Wm. Pynchon, was born in England in 1625, settled at Springfield which he represented in 1654, 1662 & 1663 — was an Assistant from 1665 to 1686, 22 years — was chief commissioner or judge of the County Court during that period & after — was one of Sir Edmund Andros' council in 1687 — was a captain of Hampshire troop of Cavalry when first organized & was subsequently a major and a colonel of the Hampshire militia. He was extensively engaged in the Indian & other trades — had a large "trading house" — was an agent to purchase lands of the Indians & for various other purposes; in short, with much business of his own, he was almost constantly employed in the business of others. He died Jan. 17. 1703, aet. 76, at Northampton, but was buried at Springfield. He married Amy, daughter of Gov. George Wyllys of Hartford in 1645. is called in the Hartford record of the marriage, "Mr John Pynching". His wife died Jan. 9. 1699, aet. 74. Their children were Joseph born 1646, John born (probably Oct. 7. 1647, 1648) Mary born 1650, William born 1653, died 1654, Mehetabel born 1661, died 1663. Joseph graduated at H. College, 1664, represents Springfield 1681 & 1682 — was a physician & died in Boston unmarried. Mary married Mr. Joseph Whiting, from Hartford, who settled in Westfield, Oct. 5. 1669, & remained there until Philip's war when he probably returned to Hartford. He had two children born in Westfield, only one of whom survived the mother, viz. Mary born 1672. The mother probably died a few years after marriage.

The Inventory of Col. Pynchon's estate was taken (or perfected) in 1705, but many things were not appraised. The articles added, mostly personal estate, amounted to 109 £, & it was agreed that the 2nd daughter Mary Sheldon should have one third, & son John, the remainder, they being the only heirs. Similar agreement appears on record in 1718; the grand daughter was then "Mary Ashley alias Sheldon, alias Whiting". Mary Whiting married Joseph Sheldon, son of Isaac, of Northampton, who settled in Suffield & was a man of some note there; he died July 2. 1708. She then married John Ashley, Esq. of Westfield, and died 1735.

In Col. Pynchon's Inventory are 2 gold rings 23 s; [m. 1. 12. 1682] [Jan. 1. 1705 & after. only partial.]

She married Wid Sarah Mighill 1712 in Springfield & had 4 children born in Sp'd. She was Sarah Bliss, married Nath'l Mighill in 1702.

Palmer.

Daniel Graves, son of Daniel of Springfield, married Margaret Miller 1707 & was one of 1st Settlers of Palmer. He died of small pox before the revolution He had 5 sons, Daniel (married a Field of Sund.) Aaron (father of Mrs Amsden) Phinehas, Moses, Simeon. All had families but the last. Daniel Graves had also 4 daughters — 2 had families.

Daniel Graves was born 1700 — sister Hannah 1698, Jemima 1703, bro. John 1704 — Mrs Amsden says one sister married a Janes of Northfield, & she has send a brother. Jemima married on the Janes from N'th — found her at Sunderland — Pulaski's Capt Dan'l Graves widow & children went to Sunderland.

Daniel Graves of Palmer died about 1760. His son Aaron was Administrator 1760.

Wilbraham.

Springfield laid out to 125 persons the east end of their town — 4 miles wide east & west, & 12 miles long, north & south — in three Divisions each person to have a lot in each Division. The widest lot was Pynchons 130 rods wide & 4 miles long — the narrowest lot was 8 feet. Was not divided until 80 years after was sanctioned by Supreme Court. They called a rod 18 feet, and then was 62 rods left in two divisions of 82 in middle Division. Land was run out Mr. Newberry surveyed the lots in 1729 — the Pynchons would not give up the old Division & have a new one. Newberry run due E & W, but the lines now vary 2½ Degrees. Nathaniel Hitchcock came & cleared 2 acres towards wheat in 1730 & put up a building where Doct. Merrick now lives. He removed into his house in May 1731 & lived one year alone. In 1732 Isaac Alvord came with his family. In 1733 Daniel Warner came. In 1734 Nathaniel Warriner. Some others came in 1733 & 1734 & settlers continued to come in. They petitioned to be a parish in 1740, and the petition was granted in Jan. 1741. In 1740 there were 24 settlers, viz four above — Jeane Brewer, Daniel Parsons, Samuel Warner, David Warriner, Samuel Bartlett, John Jones, & Samuel Brooks Joseph Wright, Daniel Lamb, Abel Bliss, Phinehas Chapin, Jonathan Ely, David Jones, Moses Burt, Nathaniel Bliss, Sam'l Stebbins, Thomas Merrick, David Merrick, Aaron Stebbins, & Stephen Stebbins. The posterity of 14 is among us 1831. Rev. Mr. Merrick was then was ordained in June 1741. Brooks & Wright soon moved away. Mr Merrick was ordained in a barn — it was a rainy day or it would have been under an oak tree. Only 6 church members, another was taken into the church making 7. before the Council would proceed. Mr. Merrick died Dec 22, 1776. The parish was made a town in 1763. The parish took in all the Middle Division south of Chickatree river, & all the Third Division. A half a mile wide, west of the parish, was divided to Wilbraham people as their share of certain lands, after the parish was incorporated. When the town was incorporated this half mile was included in Wilbraham. Some years after a tract on the south next to Somers, a mile wide at one end and less at the other was added — about 1780. Burying yard located at South end of this street. Only one death for 10 years — a child of Daniel Warners, carried to Springfield. In April 1743 Elizabeth Cockrel from Boston, sister of Samuel Warner's wife, died here, & was first person buried in the yard.

(Pauper case) Early Settlers at Cold Spring.

In 1728. John Dean & his wife Jane & 3 children lived at a place called Mr. Dwights farm, between Brookfield & Hadley, not being in the bounds of any town, (and ~~no neighbor~~ by nearer than 4 miles. Dean abandoned his family in the Fall & his wife and children remained there alone about 3 months; when winter came on she was in a suffering condition & almost perished. The case was laid before Col. Sam[l] Partridge (probably by Dwight) and as the woman was a native of New Haven, & lived in no town, had gained no residence here, he issued his warrant Jan[y] 1728-9 to the sheriff of the county, to convey her to Connecticut, & to impress men, horses, provision &c Edward Pomeroy, the Sheriff, Jan 18. deputed John King or Jona. Warner to carry Jane Dean & 3 children to Connecticut. She was delivered to the constable of Suffield, who carried her to Windsor, when Samuel Matthew Justice of the Peace, issued a warrant to convey her to Hartford. At Hartford Gov. Joseph Talcott inquired into the affair, and ordered the woman & children to be sent back to Massachusetts. She was conveyed to Windsor, when the sheriff pressed "Rembrance" Sheldons horse, & "Haram" Strongs horse & conveyed her to Suffield.

Gov. Talcott wrote a letter to John Pynchon, giving his reasons for sending back the woman — said she had lived in various places & did not probably now belong to New Haven; would not have interfered if the authorities in Massachusetts had conveyed her directly to New Haven, but in the way they had taken, she must be transported from town to town at the expense of Connecticut; & then perhaps be rejected at New Haven; that her children did not belong to N. Haven, even if she did — &c. Mr. Pynchon had written a letter to Mr. Talcott, to which this was a reply. Mr. Pynchon wrote a short letter to Col. John Stoddard, enclosing Gov. Talcotts letter, and the warrants, returns of sheriffs, &c in the case. On the 4th of Feb. 1728-9. Col. Stoddard wrote to Col. Partridge & sent the papers to him. He says: "My father is so very ill that I can do nothing in the affair. & Capt Dwight, to save a small expense, will put the county into an uproar, & the government of Connecticut, through fear of a little charge, will act so meanly & unnaturally towards their own people, as they seem inclined to do, yet we must exercise humanity". He goes on to say that the woman & children must be taken care of & the question who must pay, must be decided hereafter. The letter is honorable to Col. S. & he is the only one who seems to have an enlightened & right spirit.

The woman & children were subsequently conveyed to New Haven & the county allowed 11£ 16s for the expenses.

On Feb 1728 Q. "Samuel Stebbins of Northampton, now dwelling at Deed 1728 [illegible] one mile from Hadley & Brookfield," sued Ebenr. Miller & Nathl. Dickinson for a debt contracted in 1713. This was probably Jane Dean's nearest neighbor. He had a house there before 1728 or at least by 1727.

Hannah Lyman was licensed to be an "inn keeper" at Cold Spring in August 1728 and August 1729.

Suffield Dam. In 1728-9 Josiah Sheldon of Suffield petitioned the Court
Mass. 9 for liberty to build "a weare or dam" across that part of Connecticut 89 river that runs between Devotion's Island, & the west shore, against Suffield town, that the people might thereby take more fish. The petition was granted.

Slander Action. In 1728-9 Christopher Jacob Lawton of Springfield brought an action against Wm Peirce of Boston for defamation & claimed 100 £ damages. It is stated in the Declaration that he (Mass. Arch.) is a man of good reputation, that he has made great gains by his practice as attorney at law, his Clerkship, & by merchandizing & trading. Peirce was charged with having writ that said Lawton was a knave, a rogue, a cursed rogue, & deserved to be hanged as much as Roseander, that great robber, whose body then hung up on a gibbet near Boston by order of law.
The Defendant objected to the jurisdiction of the court & costs were allowed him 50/6.

A Women Quarrel. In 1730 John Williams of Hoosatonnuck, Upper Town, brought an action against Hezekiah Pelps & his wife Deborah, of the same place. The said Deborah is charged with forcibly tearing from said Mary's ears two golden jewels of the value of 3£ & wounding & beating said Mary.
In 1729 Hezekiah Phelps is called "formerly of Canterbrook", now of Ups. Housaton.

Springfield Cattle. In February 1728 Samuel Parsons of Joseph Colton bought 88 "beeves" & drove them to Boston. 41 in February and 47 the 2nd part of March. Valued at 1730 £ or 20 £ each. A contention then between Parsons & Colton brought the subject into Court.
